START BIG VESSEL

Keel of Largest Ship Made in Frisco Laid Today.

California Will Carry Monster Guns in Battery.

Mare Island Navy Yard, Cal., Oct. 25.—In the presence of thousands of wildly cheering Californians, the keel of the super-dreadnaught California, the largest warship ever put under construction on the Pacific coast, was laid here today.

United States Senator Phelan and officials of the navy yard represented the government, while Congressman Curry, Mayor Jas. Roney of Vallejo and state and municipal officials formed the riveting gang that hammered the first rivets into place and began actual work of construction. The battleship Oregon, famous "bull dog of the navy" and itself a product of a San Francisco bay shipyard, brought the party of federal, state and city officials here.

It is the intention to launch the California in January, 1918. She will be completed and ready for a trial trip a year later. The super-dreadnaught will be 624 feet long, 96 feet in width and 47 feet 2 inches deep. She will have a mean draft of 20 feet, 2 inches, a displacement of 22,500 tons, and will be capable of sustaining a speed of twenty-one knots an hour for twelve continuous hours.

Runs by Electricity.

Her principal battery will be twelve 14-inch fifty calibre breech loading rifles. These are to be of an exceptionally powerful new type. They will be mounted in three, in four center line turrets, which will be heavily armored. The remainder of the armament includes twenty-two five-inch rapid fire guns, four submerged torpedo tubes, four 6-pounders, four 3-inch anti-aircraft guns, two one-pounder guns for ship's boats, a three-inch landing piece and several thirty calibre machine guns.

The California's machinery is to be operated by electricity. This will be furnished by mammoth generators, driven by oil burning turbines. When completed and fully manned, the California will have a complement of 58 officers and 1,022 men.

The order was received from the commander of the Central department at Chicago.

The Second regiment which is expected to arrive tomorrow from San Antonio will move immediately into the quarters at the post.

NO WARRANTS DRAWN

Charges Against Chicago Police Chief Dropped by State's Attorney.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Application for warrants for the arrest of Chief of Police Charles C. Healey, William Luthardt, his secretary, and others on charges of malfeasance and conspiracy was withdrawn by State's Attorney Hoyne today in the hearing before Chief Justice Olson of the municipal court.

Chief Justice Olson in his ruling permitting State's Attorney Hoyne to drop the charges, said that on the strength of evidence submitted during the hearing he would have been compelled to refuse the warrants asked by the state.

Chief Healey, Luthardt and Charles T. Essig, secretary of the Sportsmen's Club of America, were indicted by the grand jury yesterday.

MAINTAIN RIGHTS ON LAND AND SEA ASSERTS HUGHES

Demands Undivided Loyalty in New York Speeches.

Support Only of True Americans To Be Desired.

NO FOREIGN ENTANGLEMENTS

Nominee Refutes Charges Made by Democrat Committee.

Favors New Treaty With Russia on Jewish Question.

New York, Oct. 25.—Charles Evans Hughes told three big audiences in different parts of New York City in the most emphatic language that he did not desire the support of anyone who has any interest superior to the United States.

Without mentioning "hyphenates," he left no doubt in the minds of his audiences that he was aiming a counter stroke at the Democratic campaign committee's charges that he had been secretly negotiating with German-American and Irish-American organizations headed by Jeremiah O'Leary. "It is hardly necessary to say that, if I am elected, we shall have an exclusively American policy in the service of American interests," he said. "I have no secret understandings, no unstated purposes. If anyone supposes in case of my election the rights or interests of American citizens will be subordinating to any ulterior purpose or to the interest of the policy of any foreign power whatever, he is doomed to disappointment."

"I am an American, free and clear of all foreign entanglements. We propose to have an administration, an American administration, which, while dealing with all nations on a basis of the most absolute fairness, will unflinchingly maintain American rights on land and sea. We shall not tolerate the use of our soil for any foreign intrigues. We shall not permit foreign influences or threats from any quarter to swerve our action."

Have But One Country.

"I said long ago that, whether native of naturalized, or of whatever race or creed, we have but one country and we could not tolerate a divided allegiance. That I repeat. I believe that the great mass of our people are sincerely patriotic. I want the support of every true American who stands for his principles and his race and I do not want the support of anyone who has any interest superior to the United States. The United States must be supreme."

"As to any person whose allegiance to our flag is not single and complete, as to anyone who would not instantly champion the rights and interests of America against any country whatever, as to anyone who would seek impunity for foreign aggression, or who would have the power of this nation held captive to any foreign influence or swayed by alien machinations, let him not vote for me."

Cheer for Twenty Minutes.

Mr. Hughes made this declaration before 2,500 persons with all the fire and energy at his command. Instantly he had the power of his nation held captive to his words, waving flags and shouting with all its combined power. It was several minutes before Mr. Hughes could restore order and complete his speech. He repeated the declaration almost verbatim in speeches he delivered late in the evening in Harlem and the Bronx.

Mr. Hughes talked in "enemy country" tonight and various efforts were made to heckle him.

"What did you ever do when you were governor of the people of this state?" demanded a heckler at the Queens meeting.

"I did a good many things as governor for the people of this state," retorted Mr. Hughes.

"What did you do?" persisted the man.

"Mr. Hughes, there is a bug in the house," shouted some one. When laughter subsided, Mr. Hughes said:

"If our friend can ask an intelligent question I shall be glad to answer him," but no further attempt was made to interrupt him.

"How about down in Mexico, Charles?" demanded another voice.

Specious Jews.

"Well, Mexico furnishes a striking illustration of how not to do it," replied Mr. Hughes. "It illustrates, in the first place, the preposterous character of the suggestion that the policy of the administration is a policy of peace. Did Vera Cruz represent a policy of peace?"

There were many Jews in Mr. Hughes's audiences, and he took advantage of the occasion to reiterate his allegiance to the plank in the Republican platform pledging an effort to secure a treaty with Russia replacing the treaty abrogated during the Taft administration because of discriminations against American Jews.

"We are devoted to the principle of civil and religious liberty, and we can not recognize any racial or religious discrimination with respect to the privileges of our citizens whether at home or abroad," he said.

He renewed his assaults on "Democratic extravagance" and denounced the Underwood tariff. "Our opponents have increased the cost of living and have decreased the chance of making a living," he said.

PREDICT 7-CENT BREAD

Two Dollar Wheat Will Make Advance Inevitable, Chicago Bakers Say.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 25.—Seven cent bread possibility today when wheat soared to its highest figure for the year. At noon December wheat sold at $1.45 and May at $1.75. Flour jumped 20 cents more a barrel. Bread has gone to 7 cents in Cleveland, Ohio. J. M. Bell, secretary of the National Association of Bakers, asserted this with $2 wheat almost certain to come, 7 cents, or even still higher prices for bread, can not be avoided.

The Chicago Association of Master Bakers is planning a petition to Washington to place an embargo on the exportation of grain, restricting shipments until the domestic demand has been supplied.

Secretary of Agriculture David T. Houston declared here that congress would never favor such a measure as a means of restoring bread to normal prices.

"President Wilson would never sign such a bill restricting the exportation of grain," he said, "for it would cause a cry of 'unfairness' and discrimination all over the country."

Secretary Houston was here to attend a meeting of grain experts.

FUNERAL OF PREMIER

Several Reported Candidates for Head of Vienna Ministry.

Vienna, Oct. 25.—The funeral of Count Karl Stueckgk, the late Austrian premier, was held this afternoon in the cathedral of St. Stephens. Archbishop Piffle officiated. Emperor Francis Joseph was represented by Archduke Leopold Salvator.

For successor to Count Stueckgk as premier the names of Dr. Ernest von Koerber, now finance minister of Austria-Hungary, and Prince Conrad von Hohenlohe-Schillingfurst, new Austrian minister of the interior, are mentioned.

Dr. Friedrich Adler, who shot and killed Premier Stueckgk on last Saturday, was today turned over to the court where the case is to be tried.

NOW IT IS DIAZ

Report Says He Is About to Overthrow Carranza.

First Chief Is Preparing to Leave Mexico in Hurry.

HE HAS QUIT MEXICO CITY

Former Dictator's Nephew Only Few Miles From Capital.

He Is Well Supplied With Men and Munitions.

Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 25.—Felix Diaz completed the conquest of the state of Mexico four days ago when he entered Tulaca, the capital, according to a message received here today by a Mexican identified with the Diaz movement.

Diaz was said to be only a short distance from Mexico City with a force of several thousand men, well armed and amply provisioned.

The forces of Diaz to the capital is believed on the border to be the cause of the departure of Carranza and his followers from the city.

A letter from Gen. Medina Barron, a partisan of Diaz, received here, said he was in complete control of the state of Colima, having 3,000 men. He offered a large sum of money for the prosecution of his campaign and had sufficient arms and ammunition for 5,000 men.

The state of Oaxaca, with the exception of the capital city of Oaxaca, has been overrun by the Diaz adherents, the letter declared.

The forces of Diaz, several thousand strong, were in the suburbs of Mexico City, less than two miles from the most densely populated quarters, the letter asserted.

Carranza to Flee?

Washington, Oct. 25.—A rumor that General Carranza was preparing to flee from Mexico became current here after a visit by Emilio Arredondo, Mexican ambassador-designate, to Secretary of State Lansing. Secretary Lansing said he was quite sure there was no foundation for the rumor.

The rumor appeared to be based on these facts: Several secret visits made by Luis Cabrera, chairman of the Mexican members of the American-Mexican committee, to Arredondo.

The departure of General Carranza's wife from Mexico. She arrived recently at Laredo, Tex., on her way to California.

Carranza's departure from Mexico City for Queretaro with a considerable guard and sixty carloads of war munitions.

Dispatches received by the state and war departments indicating that Carranza's tenure of the presidency is very insecure and that his military subordinates have it in their power to depose him at any moment.

Embassy Official Explains.

Mr. Arredondo refused to be seen, but an embassy official said there was no truth in the report that Carranza might abdicate and leave Mexico. His retirement to Queretaro was explained on the ground that Queretaro is the provisional capital and that the new national convention which was elected last Sunday is about to convene.

An American just arrived here from Mexico City brought alarming reports of conditions now prevailing throughout that country. He declared newspaper accounts of extreme poverty and suffering of the people and of the lawlessness of the lawless aggregations called armies have been far short of approximating the full truth.

The masses, he stated, pick up and pass on the streets, roads and fields for food. Their constant prayer, he asserted, was that the American forces would come into the country and deliver them from their intolerable misery.

He declared that Carranza does not control the country; that the governors or military commands of states act independently of him and that the number of dissatisfied is constantly growing among his own followers.

TRAIL HOLDUP'S PALS

Arrest of Walton's Brother for Detroit Robbery Expected.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 25.—Arrest of Douglas Walton of St. Louis and Arthur Stefen of Houston, Texas, alleged accomplices of the former's brother, James Walton, in the $26,000 Burroughs Adding Machine company holdup at Detroit, is expected today, according to local Pinkerton operatives.

The two young men are alleged to have been tentatively located in a small town a few miles north of here. Detectives Black and Fox of Detroit are expected to reach Dallas today to take James Walton back to Michigan for trial. Walton denies any knowledge of the Brown Shoe company holdup in St. Louis two years ago. A press dispatch had stated that detectives in that city suspected Walton was implicated.

Superintendent Alexander of the local Pinkerton agency intimated that Walton's wife—formerly Miss Mildred "Bright" daughter of a prominent St. Louis family—would be released today.

STEADY FLOW OF GOLD

Imports of Metal Brings Total in U. S. to Two Billion.

New York, Oct. 25.—Gold imports into the United States since the beginning of the war have amounted to $388,000,000 and the exports in that time to $231,000,000, according to a compilation of the foreign trade department of the National City bank.

This steady inflow of gold in conjunction with the domestic production has brought the total stock of gold in the United States from $1,887,270,664 on August 1, 1914, to $2,826,000,564 on October 1, 1916, the gain in amount of gold in the United States in the twenty-six months of the war having been $748,729,904. The amount of gold imports in the twenty-six months of the war is greater than that for the full decade preceding the war.

Paris, Oct. 25.—Kaiser Wilhelm is reported to have arrived at the Bapume front to supervise preparations for a heavy German counter-offensive on the north of the Somme, the Liberte reported today.

ATTRACTIVE GIRLS TO HUSTLE BOYS FOR U. S. ARMY

San Francisco, Oct. 25.—The United States army authorities here have advertised for women to aid in securing enlistments for the army. It became known today. The advertisement, inserted by Lieut. Col. John G. Gardner, retired, who is in charge of the recruiting station here, called for "Twelve girls for the United States army."

The advertisement specified that they must be "attractive, intelligent and industrious." He held out the inducement that here was a chance to "make money and do your country a service." It concluded with the warning that "no triflers need apply."

Colonel Gardner's plan is to rent an uptown store and install an exhibit which will demonstrate the life of a soldier from camp cooking to infantry drill. The women recruiters will work out of that station and will be paid $1 for every recruit they obtain.

WIN EVERY POINT

French Carried German Works at Verdun With Rush.

Paris Wild Over Tremendous Victory for Ally Troops.

Paris, Oct. 25.—News of the new victory at Verdun has caused tremendous public enthusiasm here and this is all the greater because of the general impression that Verdun was over and done with and that both sides were contenting themselves with holding what they had won. Today's operation, proving that the French could make a smashing blow at Verdun while carrying on an extended offensive on the Somme, has greatly increased public confidence and gone far to lessen the depression caused by the loss of Constanza.

The attack was planned for ten days ago. Artillery began preliminary work but rainy weather set in and grand headquarters ordered a postponement. When the time came the attack was delivered by four columns of a division each, first on the left between the southern slopes of Pepper Hill and Thiaucourt farm. This was followed by the main body of the division which carried Thiaucourt work and farm and the Haudremont quarries set as the objective still beyond. The Douaumont road beyond. There the attackers stopped, having advanced about a mile.

Turn Ravine of Death.

The second column was a colonial division under General Mangin from the corps, which re-took Douaumont fort last May. The task assigned to it was to take Hill 320, the edge of Fleury and the edge of Callette wood. The offensive there was even more rapid than on the left wing. General Mangin immediately saw he could advance farther and the commanding officer was therefore informed that preparations had been made to continue the attack. Hill 320 was rushed by troops from Fleury, which approached Callette wood thru the celebrated ravine of death. They then crossed the wood and reached the approaches to Douaumont fort. Everywhere the Germans gave way before them.

However, the garrison of the fort hurriedly prepared to defend the important point confided to it. French troops surrounded the fort and extended their gains everywhere without an instant's delay. Fatigue parties set to work, turning the defenses so as to be ready to resist counter attacks.

West of the fort, the village of Douaumont had been carried at a run and passed beyond. Meanwhile a stiff struggle went on between the French and the defenders of the fort. The Germans refused to surrender and the French killed nearly all of them before they forced their way into the ruins.

Things went equally well on the right. The third column then advanced half a mile reaching the edge of the Vaux Pond and carrying the part of the Vaux-Chapelle wood still held by the enemy as Fuminwood. The column stopped north of the woods on the outskirts of the village of Vaux. The fourth column, which was ordered to operate in the vicinity of Vaux fort without taking it followed out the program exactly. It drove out the Germans from Chenois and Lauffe woods, captured Demoupp battery and pushing ahead encircled Vaux fort on the east, south and west, so that the defenders have no way to issue except to the north.

HAVE TO SALUTE FLAG

Pittsburg Policemen Must Pay Proper Respect to Old Glory.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 25.—Uniformed policemen must hereafter recognize the Stars and Stripes with salute whenever seen on parade, according to the duty manual for 1916, issued by the department of public safety and just made public.

The object of the rule, the manual explains, in addition to proper respect for the national flag, is to inspire in all members of the police department a livelier spirit of patriotism. It is also recommended that the same honor be accorded any funeral procession but this rule is not compulsory.

BRAIN HAS 2ND WIND

But Professor Says Those Who Quit When Tired Don't Know It.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—"The brain has a second wind," according to Harry D. Kilduff, professor of psychology at the University of Chicago, who is a for college students on the psychology of study. "The student who stops work when he begins to feel fatigued never learns that there is an intellectual second wind," he says.

"Education is the process of forming habits of the brain. You cannot be educated without vigorous effort. No professor can pump knowledge into you."
